Special Dispatches to the Arizona Miner, By Western Union and U. S. Military Lines.

Foreign and Domestic.

Washington, March 16.—The House Committee on Pacific Railroads will hold a special meeting to-morrow to consult with the Government directors of the U. P. R. R. in relation to proposed legislation to regulate subsidized railroad operations; Wyoming coal, and other inside rings, to be investigated; further exemption of railroad lands from taxation, and the propriety of having the principal office of the Union Pacific removed from Boston to some point on the line of the road. Other matters requiring legislation will be considered.

Springfield, Mass., March 16.—A letter from Sumner, to a personal friend, dated March 24, 1873, stated that his sickness resulted from injuries received 17 years ago, and laments the fact that Americans have a false conception of his stand in the battle-flag question, and which he hoped would be rectified in his day.

San Francisco, March 16.—Last night Wm Hanlon stabbed a widow named Mary O'Connor and her son, inflicting wounds which may prove fatal.

Col Oliver Probie, formerly in the U. S. Army, now an inmate of the custom house in this city, and recently the proprietor of a neck-tie factory, committed suicide to-day by shooting himself through the head, in his room in a house on Washington street. Reason unknown.

Emigrant Gap, March 16.—The Central Pacific railroad is blocked again by snow which fell yesterday and last night and drifted badly. The only hope of cutting through is use of shovels, the snow being completely packed both sides of the track rendering the snow plows powerless.

Summit, March 16.—The snow is fully 25 feet deep on the level and still snowing. Telegraph poles and wires are covered out of sight between here and Truckee.

Gold in New York opened at 111½, advanced to 112 at noon, and closed at 112½.

Greenbacks in San Francisco, 88½/99½.

Washington, March 17.—The House Committee will protect the Government railroad interests. The new U. P. directors appear desirous of an amicable arrangement with the Government directors. A dispatch from the President of the road says the company has taken possession of the Wyoming coal mines and will hereafter own them.

Admiral Porter is very ill.

Boston, March 17.—The funeral of Charles Sumner took place from the State House yesterday. The ceremonies were solemn and impressive and the attendance very large.

Congressman Dawes will probably be elected to succeed Sumner in the U. S. Senate.

Raleigh, N. C., March 17.—Bald Mountain in the western part of the State is now in a state of volcanic eruption. The houses on both sides of the mountain and around the base have been thrown down; great excitement prevails and the inhabitants are fleeing the country.

San Francisco, March 17.—Advices from Honolulu state that Premier Wm Pitt Seligson has been chosen King of the Sandwich Islands.

Boston, March 18.—The senatorial contest in the legislature is between Dawes, Chas. F. Adams, Judge Hoar and Gen Banks. Dawes is ahead and it is thought will be successful, though Adams has strong support.

Chester, Pa., March 18.—The P. M. S. S. Co's new iron steamer, City of Pekin, was launched here this morning, in splendid style, in presence of a large and enthusiastic audience. Special trains from Washington, New York and Philadelphia brought more than a thousand invited guests. The City of Pekin is the largest steamer in the world, except the Great Eastern.

Washington, March 18.—Senator Oglesby, from the committee on Indian Affairs, reported back Secretary Delano's communication with regard to the Mission Indians of California, asking an appropriation of $150,000 to meet their present necessities, with a recommendation that the committee be discharged from its further consideration. So ordered.

Senator Mitchell presented a resolution, signed by 7,052 citizens of Oregon, asking for the passage of a bill to aid in the construction of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake railroad. Referred to Committee on Public Lands.

Washington, March 19.—In the Senate to-day a resolution was agreed to, instructing the Secretary of the Interior to report the number of Indians estimated killed by troops of the U. S. Army during the last year, together with the number of soldiers and civilians killed by Indians during the same period.

Modoc City, Pa., March 19.—Yesterday, lightning struck an oil tank. A terrific explosion followed and burning oil was thrown in all directions. Several houses were burned to the ground and much damage done to tanks.

San Francisco, March 16.—The Central Pacific railroad is again open. The company's losses by snow blockades are enormous.

Gold in New York 111½. Greenbacks in San Francisco 88½ and 89½.

San Francisco, March 20.—The steamer Constantine sailed to-day for San Diego.

Sacramento, March 20.—Gov Booth vetoed the bill providing for the election of harbor commissioners by the people.

Washington, March 19.—In the Senate, yesterday, Senator Jones of Nevada submitted a resolution instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire into the expediency of directing a survey to be made of the Colorado Desert, with the view of submerging it; and to also ascertain the effect such submergence would have on the climate, etc.

Jones said two or three gentlemen had, at their own expense, made an elaborate survey of the Desert.

New York, March 20.—All western railroads have increased their passenger rates and will soon raise rate of freight.

Boston, March 20.—The contest for the U. S. Senatorship is the absorbing theme in the State House. It is said that a canvass of the Assembly shows a plurality for Hoar. Dawes has strong support. There are a small number for Adams.

Washington, March 23.—It is now ascertained that the resignation of Secretary of the Treasury Richardson will be accepted within a few days.

In the House, to-day, a bill fixing the amount of legal tender circulation at $400,000,000 passed.

Indianapolis, March 23.—A fire on Sunday night destroyed property to the value of $200,000.

New York, Mar. 23.—Lewis Dent, brother of Mrs Grant, died yesterday.

San Francisco, March 23.—The steamer Nevada, from Panama, is in, but brings no news of the Colons, which is now six days over due from Asapulco.

Gold in New York 111½. Greenbacks in San Francisco 89 and 90½.

City of Mexico, March 15.—A mob, on the night of March 7th, attacked the protestant Chapel in Puebla, smashed windows and furniture, destroyed the Bible and stoned the pastor, Rev Antonio Cowah.

Sacramento, March 21.—In the Assembly, to-day, Snyder's bill to regulate the Telegraph came up. Snyder made a long speech in its favor. Bowers of San Diego replied, defending the W. U. T. Co. from the charge of unjust discrimination. The Assembly refused to pass the bill by a vote of 26 to 35. Snyder gave notice of a motion to reconsider.

Washington, March 20.—The Sub-Committee on Banking and Currency, who have been investigating the affairs of the First National Bank, to-day submitted their report to the full committee, and charge grave irregularities on the part of officers of the bank. Among other things, just previous to the failure of the bank their capital was deposited with Jay Cooke & Co.; also, the indebtedness of the N. P. R. R. had been carried by the bank since July 17, 1872. The Committee say that the officers cannot be punished under the laws, and recommend an amendment of the laws to cover such cases.

Cincinnati, March 21.—E. Heller, banker and agent for European steamships, was shot, supposed fatally, by an unknown person last night.

Raleigh, N. C., March 21.—Upheavals at Bald Mountain becoming more serious. People still leaving the vicinity.

St. Louis, March 20.—The machine shops of the A. P. R. R. Co., in the Eastern part of the city, were destroyed by fire last night. Loss, $100,000; fully insured.

YUMA.

Yuma, A. T., March 21.—To-day's Sentinel states that a fire assay was made by the Castle Dome Smelting Co. on ore from the southeastern part of the Territory, and the result shows it to be worth $227.90 per ton in silver, and 11½ per cent copper.

Wm. B. Hooper & Co. have week shipped 27,000 pounds of citizen and 16,300 pounds of Government freight.

David Nephew shipped 20,000 pounds of citizen freight to Tucson.

TUCSON.

Tucson, March 23.—Maj. Randall returned to San Carlos on the 18th. His command, with that of Capt Hamilton, struck Eskiminzin's camp about 15 miles northeast of Florence and killed 11 bucks, captured thirty odd squaws and children, four horses and mules, a large lot of ammunition, some arms and all the camp equipment. The Apaches occupied a strong and fortified position high in the mountains and first opened fire. Three soldiers were wounded and Major Randall and Capt Hamilton narrowly escaped. The White Mountain Indian soldiers behaved splendidly.

All quiet with Caliche. Weather clear to-day.

MAKING EACH OTHER MISERABLE.

As if there were not trouble enough in this world that comes upon men without human design, people set themselves to work to diminish happiness and to increase misery. Paradoxical as it may seem, there is in man an organ and faculty of destructiveness—that when unregulated, it inspires cruelty; that it is the root of that horrible pleasure which the Romans had, and their modern descendants still have, in making gladiatorial shows, contests of wild beasts, bull fights, etc.

But there runs through modern civilized society a vein of the same quality. People who would fain be seen to seek a rush of pleasure and to think themselves Christians, have a lively enjoyment in witnessing pain, and cultivate the art of inflicting it. The mention of a few of the methods employed will make good my remarks.

The delight with which many report bad news, the eagerness with which they report the people of evil sayings which cannot but lacerate the feelings, show a morbid love of suffering. This is not the trait of villainous natures. It exists in people of real kindness of disposition. It is not a morbidness because it is so widely extended as to seem normal.

Some people scatter pain producing elements thoughtlessly, and are surprised and sorry when they witness the suffering produced. Others do it for a momentary pleasure, without meaning any serious results. But now and then we come persons who love to torment a victim. They enjoy another's sufferings. It is their happiness to see some one made keenly miserable by their lance-like tongue. They will smile, and talk in the most pleasant manner, and utter sentences so poisoned-tipped, and cast a look sideways, to see if they strike, and at every sign of pain their face grows bright.

In part this is a latent ambition. People thus assert their power over others. It raises one in his own estimation to perceive that he can control the moods of another.

But there is still a more common exhibition of the love of suffering. It is seen in the ignoble, but universal, art of teasing.

We see it in the most unregulated form among children, who nip and pinch each other, make up mouths, twitch each other's clothes, run off with toys, push and "joggle," point with insulting fingers, and in a hundred ingenious ways strive to make each other miserable. And as they grow up, it often happens that young people carry on a cruel reign of teasing, each one vying with another which shall be the sharpest.

It does not cease with youth. Grown folks, good-natured, kind-hearted, full of benevolence, often show this perverse spirit in the midst of all their kindness. By sharp speech, by veiled sarcasm, by exciting curiosity which they will not gratify, by narrating extended facts, by sinister comments, by rallying one when circumstances forbid a reply, by equivocal praise, by blunt telling of some truth that had better been left unsaid, and by hundreds of ingenious ways which time would fail to tell, people inflict pain upon each other.

Those who, in the main, are striving to make friends happy, will have one black thread in the web of white. Those who really love each other have a strange fondness for stirring each other up. There is an innocent and even pleasure-producing method of rallying, which, if done with a gracefully done, heightens the enjoyment of society. One may touch a discord if it lapses into a sole chord. Sometimes, when we have good news to tell, we are bewitched with a desire to open the matter as if it were a great trouble, and we are about to break. There is a gentle badinage, an innocent arrow-shooting, which flatters and charms. But life is full of the other sort. If Darwin is right in thinking that men ascended from nature by an evolution, then it is very certain that some men came up by the way of the mosquito, the flea and the biting fly, and that their ancestral traits still linger in the blood.

[Henry Ward Beecher.]

THE LOVELIEST OF HER SEX.—I also conversed with a lovely squaw. If she was the loveliest of her sex, Lord Cornwallis help the rest. Her kinnapack differed somewhat from old John Brown's. It was a little warrier about two feet in length. His mother grew up to have a beau, and he'll have a bow before he grows up. She wore for a redingote an old army overcoat, and her diamond necklace was a string of tomato cans. Indians don't have dictionaries. There is only one word in their language—it's an ugly word: It's "ugh." Says I, "Do the winds of the valley roar, and gives her a cordial welcome, handing her my whisky flask for the cordial welcome. She drank the whole of it, chewed the cork, and said "ugh." Says I, "Do the winds of the valley too roughly deal with you, fair daughter of the mountains?" Says she, "Ugh." Says I, "Shall I be favored with your hand for the lancers, and do you prefer lemon or vanilla?" Says she, "Ugh." Says I, "Do you think it better to be immolated on the altar of your country than to die of a shad bite on board a fishing smack?" Says she, "Ugh." I asked her "How much?" Says she, "Ugh."
